

Back at the library...

I have to study more.
I have to learn more languages.
I have to do another internship.

...maybe I should really call my cousin Kasia and go to London...

RING RING

Oh! Hi Patrycja!
How are you?

Hello darling!
The Dubai Biennial is fabulous!
The new Polish Pavilion is soo controversial!

Oh, thank you for thinking
of me...

By the way, my friend Andrzej at the MOOKKA is looking for an intern, I mentioned
your name, you
should totally give him a call.

All this time
studying and doing projects, I should have just asked Patrycja for one of her contacts!

Later that week at the MOOKKA...

Brygida Kozak
Chief Curator
of MOOKKA

So... what did you think of the Polish Pavilion
at the Dubai Biennial?

Andzrej Rotterman Director of MOOKKA

She would look very good
as an assistant...

I was just telling my friend Patrycja that I thought it is sooo
controversial...

...and the job
was hers!

Finally working at MOOKKA...

Aneczko! Hurry up with that! We need you downstairs for the private view!

And could you please get changed? You know how important this is for OUR reputation!

Several exhibitions later...

Mother, father, I have an announcement to make. I got a promotion and a stable contract. I am now the Chief Curator at MOOKKA.

Now she can have babies. A family!

Well done daughter, you worked hard for this!

What the hell is the MOOKKA?

Olenko, hurry up with that! We need you downstairs for the private view!

And could you please get changed? You know how important this is for OUR reputation!

So mummy now that you are a curator at MOOKKA, what do you do?

Darling, let me answer this one.

Mommy is daddy's assistant.

The End

This story is based on the personal experiences of working conditions in the cultural sector in Poland. All contributors were women.
